

The Left/Right Brain Connection

BY KENYA MCCULLUM

Denise is an accountant who loves numbers and always looks at the fine print of everything she does. She's good at memorizing facts, and loves nothing more than watching documentaries on the History Channel.

Jennifer, on the other hand, is imaginative and constantly immerses herself in artistic endeavors. She expresses herself well and when she thinks about an issue, she can easily see the big picture.

We've met people like Jennifer and Denise and noticed their very different personalities and the different ways they look at the world. But what makes them that way?

Part of the answer can be found right between their ears.
